

Building the church...one person at a time

To Whom It May Concern:

Mark Madere of SpectraLight Photography was chosen by our church to produce our organizations pictorial directory. Our experience with him was very positive and I appreciated his professional approach in working with our large congregation. While he maintained the schedule and coordination of the congregation, I saw how he took time with each individual and family to be certain they had a photograph with which they were pleased. I also appreciated the fact that he did not give a heavy handed sales approach to sell more than what the individual wanted.

The directory was delivered in a timely fashion and we are pleased with the design and quality of his work. Mark has also helped us on a volunteer basis often providing professional photos of various church events. He sees his work as a service to people and he does a fine job. Mark desires to make his clientele happy - and very often he does. He's a man of integrity and if he tells you he can do a job, I have no doubt he will.

I recommend you strongly consider working with Mark for your photography needs.

Sincerely,

Geoff Schultz
